Use of cookies

Cookies are small files, often including an anonymous unique identifier, that a site or its service provider transfers to your computer’s hard drive through your web browser (if you allow).

Cookies enable the sites or service providers' systems to recognize your browser and capture and remember certain information.

Cookies may be required to use the Services provided by Thundermark Games Inc.. We use cookies to understand and save your preferences for future visits, keep track of advertisements and compile aggregate data about site traffic and site interaction so that we can offer better site experiences and tools in the future.

Some third-party cookies are set by services that appear on the site. They are set by the operators of that service and are not in our control. They are set by Twitter, Facebook, YouTube, Google+ and other third party services, and relate to the ability of users to share content on the site.

You may refuse to accept cookies by activating the setting on your browser which allows you to refuse the setting of cookies.

If you want to learn more about cookies you can do so at www.allaboutcookies.org.

Do we disclose any information to outside parties?

The Company does not sell, trade, or otherwise transfer to outside parties any information collected from you. This does not include trusted third parties who assist us in conducting our business, operating our website and providing the Services to you, as long as those parties agree to keep this information confidential. We may also release your information when we believe release is appropriate to comply with the law, enforce our site policies, or protect rights, property, or safety of ours or of other parties.

Thundermark Games Inc. may use and disclose to its partners and contractors the collected non-personal data for purposes of analyzing usage of the Services, advertisement serving, managing and providing the Services and to further develop the Services.

You acknowledge and agree that the analytics companies, which provide their services to Thundermark Games Inc., may combine the collected information with other information they have independently collected from other services or products relating to your activities. These companies collect and use information under their own privacy policies.

What do we use your information for?

Any of the information we collect from you may be used in one or more of the following ways:

- To ensure that content from the site is presented in the most effective manner for you and for your computer.
- To provide you with information, Products or services that you request from us or which may interest you, where you have consented to be contacted for such purposes.
- To notify you about changes to our service.

- To fulfill our legal obligations and respond to litigation.
- For our statistical or survey purposes to improve the site and communicate our services to you.
- To prevent or detect fraud or abuses of the site and enable third parties to carry out technical, logistical or other functions on our behalf.
- If you consent, to notify you by email of our Products, promotions, competitions and special offers that may be of interest to you.
- To create non personally identifiable reports on the user interaction with the site.

Children's online privacy

Please note that Company's site and the service available on it are not aimed at Minors, and you should not share any personal information with us if you are a Minor (the age of Minors is determined by local laws where you reside).

Your Consent

By using the Services provided by Thundermark Games Inc., you signify your assent to this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to each and every part of this Privacy Policy, then you should not use the Services or submit any personally identifiable information through the applications developed by the Company. Your continued use of the Services will signify your acceptance of the Policy and its possible changes.

Changes to this Privacy Policy
